

Dear Parents,

Our students continue to shine and demonstrate their gifts and talents in a variety of ways. This week, ISW hosted two High School soccer matches on different days. Even though both games were played in the rain, our team competed hard and showed Determination, Persistence, and Connection.

Some of our Elementary students submitted their final work submission for the BIEA STEM competition. These students have been working hard researching all year to see how face masks, needlefelt, and old clothes can be used to make new clothing. They want to see how their designs can solve two environmental problems and how these designs can be considered sustainable. If the students' research and work submissions make it through the next few rounds, they will have the opportunity to showcase their work in London, England this summer.

G8- G9 students successfully took part in the PSAT earlier in the week. The PSAT prepares students to take the SAT in High School. Students who participate in the PSAT usually score better on the SAT. The PSAT can be a predictor of a student's SAT score.

Student Led Conferences

Student-led Led Conferences will be on April 12th from 8:00-4:30 pm. Conferences for Foundations, Junior Kindergarten, and Kindergarten will be traditional parent/teacher conferences. Student-led conferences are required for students in G1-G12. A 20-minute block of time is allotted for each conference. More details about student-led conferences and instructions on how to sign up for available times can be found here.

Secondary Spring Trips

The physical permission forms for the Secondary Spring Trip were sent home with your students today Friday, March 29. Please return the signed forms to your child's homeroom teacher by April 11th. If you do not want your child to attend the spring trip activities, we understand. Please communicate with Mrs. Foster via your language liaisons by Thursday, April 11th. Please note that there will be no alternate on-campus instruction or activities during the spring trip days, and the student's absence will be marked as "SA" (School-Related Absence).
